

JVIS is pleased to announce our new partnership with Xeikon

Xeikon, a division of Punch Graphix, manufactures and distributes high-end digital color printing systems, the related prepress and operating software, and consumables such as toner. The company is focused on providing integrated solutions for commercial and industrial applications, including labels and packaging.

The innovative Xeikon digital color label technology was recently recognized at the Labelexpo Americas 2008 show where the company won the New Innovation Award.

This year, Xeikon has launched its latest technology platform for the labels and packaging market with the introduction of two new digital label presses - Xeikon 3300 and Xeikon 3000. The latest technology platform represents the best in image quality, productivity and environmental friendliness.

Our relationship with Xeikon will start off as a "Lead Referral" arrangement with plans to move quickly to an authorized "Agent". The partnership between Xeikon and JVIS is the next logical step for both companies that share the same customer focused business philosophy and quest for the latest technology.

We will be contacting you soon with additional information concerning Xeikon's technology offerings as well as their unique "Do-the-benchmark" initiative that lets you upload your files on www.xeikon.com and have them printed on the Xeikon 3300. The printed files are sent back to you so you can experience, "first hand", the industry's only true 1200 dpi, 4 bit per spot print technology.

With a speed of 63 feet per minute and monthly duty cycle of 2.3 million feet, the Xeikon 3300 is also an extremely fast and productive digital label press. It has the capability to print four process colors plus a range of standard or custom spot colors (for maintaining brand integrity), "one hit" opaque white (for creating a 'no label look' on transparent labels) and security toner (for anti-counterfeiting applications).

We are confident that the Xeikon 3300 provides the image quality and productivity in digital label converting that all of us have been anticipating for some time. By adding Xeikon to our list of technology partners, JVIS has further reinforced its commitment to support you at a level that exceeds your expectations.

"Digital is what we do; Now we do it better"

Sincerely
